NOTE: The campaign finance committee must report the contributions/expenditures on the next full disclosure report filed by the committee.

A Statement of Limited Activity cannot be filed:

1. For two (2) or more consecutive reporting periods when the total contributions received or expenditures made since the last filed full disclosure report are over $500;
2. For the 30 Day After Election report if it has a deficit (debt) of more than $5,000;
3. For any report filed after the 30 Day After Election report, if the committee has a deficit (debt) of more than $1,000.

The Missouri Ethics Commission recommends every campaign finance committee file at least one full disclosure report annually. (Upd 07/16/12)

3. Question: Do all candidates have to form a committee and register it by filing a Statement of Committee Organization with the Missouri Ethics Commission and/or their local election authority? (Section 130.016, RSMo.) (Rev 11/01/11)

Answer: The type of office a candidate is running for, the amount of money accepted (contributions) and the amount of money spent (expenditures) determines a candidate's level of reporting. See When to Form & Register a Committee brochure for more information.

4. Question: Is a candidate's use of their own money used in the dollar thresholds for forming and registering a campaign finance committee? (Section 130.011 RSMo) (UPD 05/14/12)

Answer: Yes, the law includes a 'candidates own money' in the definition of campaign finance contribution. These amounts must be used in determining whether the dollar thresholds for contributions received and expenditures made have been met for forming a campaign finance committee and also must be reported on the committee's campaign finance reports.

EXCEPTION: A candidate spending their own money (that is not reimbursed in some manner) on their food, lodging, travel and payment of a filing fee for public office is not a campaign finance contribution. This money is not used in determining whether the dollar thresholds have been met for forming a campaign finance committee and is not required to be reported on the committee's campaign finance reports.

Refer to the following chart:

Money Used	Campaign Finance	Misc.
Candidate's own money spent for own food, lodging, travel or filing fee for office	1. Not considered in determining the need to register a committee  2. Not required to be reported	Candidate can choose not to include these costs in the campaign, as long as he/she is not reimbursed in any manner supplies, etc.)	2. Report in campaign finance reports (in-kind contribution)

- 5. Question: When a candidate is required to form and register a candidate campaign finance committee and they previously had filed a Statement of Exemption, should they report all contributions and/or expenditures made before they met the dollar threshold requiring the filing of a Statement of Committee Organization (CO1)? (Added 11/01/11)

Answer: Yes, if you are a candidate who:

- ✓ Previously filed a Statement of Exemption because you did not believe you would accept contributions and/or make expenditures over the dollar threshold established in law and
- ✓ Since that time you have received contributions and/or made expenditures (or wish to) over the dollar threshold established in law

You must:

- ✓ File a Statement of Rejection along with a Statement of Committee Organization (CO1) , no later than 30 days before the election
- ✓ File all required campaign finance reports that would have been required if the candidate had not filed a Statement of Exemption and
- ✓ Report all contributions received and/or expenditures made, including those received/spent before filing the Statement of Committee Organization (CO1)

- 6. Question: Committees are required to file a Statement of Committee Organization after having met specific dollar thresholds (contributions received and/or expenditures made). Should a committee report on their first full campaign finance disclosure report, those contributions that were received and/or expenditures that were made before the committee met the monetary threshold and filed the Statement of Committee Organization (CO1)? (Added 11/01/01)

Answer: Yes, in the interest of full disclosure and transparency it is recommended the committee report these contributions received and/or expenditures made on their first full campaign finance disclosure report.

- 7. Question: If a candidate wants to give money to their campaign finance committee as a loan, with the intent to repay the loan, how is the loan reported?

Answer: The campaign finance committee should report the money, on their campaign finance disclosure report, as a loan received. The name and address of the lender, date the loan was received, and the dollar amount of the loan should be recorded. If the loan is over $100, additional information is required. The loan shows as a debt the entire time the loan is carried through the campaign until it is paid back to the candidate.

At the end of the campaign, one of the following could be done:

- ✓ Committee Repays Loan to Candidate: The repayment is reported in the candidate's campaign finance disclosure report as a payment made on a loan; or
- ✓ Loan is Forgiven: The loan can be forgiven by the lender. If the loan is forgiven upon termination of the committee, on the Termination Statement the candidate would describe the disposal of debt as forgiven by candidate (obtain a signed statement from the lender for record-keeping); or
- ✓ Convert to Debt Service Campaign Finance Committee: To raise money for repayment of the loan (See Debt Service Committee section for more information).

Reporting Requirements – Contributions

1. Question: Do campaign finance contribution limits exist in Missouri?
Answer: No, there are no campaign finance contribution limits in Missouri law. However, some local municipalities have enacted contribution limits and a candidate should check with their local jurisdiction for any such restrictions in local ordinance or local law.

2. Question: What information must be received and maintained when a campaign finance committee receives a contribution? (Section 130.036, 130.041, 130.110, 130.120 RSMo.)
Answer: The campaign finance committee treasurer must maintain a listing, by name, address, and employer (occupation if self-employed) of each contributor who made a contribution of money or anything of value (in-kind contribution) totaling over $25. The date of receipt and amount of the contribution must also be maintained.

If the contributions were received at a fund raiser, the above information must be maintained for contributions over $100; see the Fund-Raising Activity brochure, available at the Missouri Ethics Commission's website, for further information and requirements.

3. Question: What are anonymous contributions and how does a campaign finance committee report anonymous contributions? (Section 130.036, 130.041, 130.110 RSMo.)

Answer: Anonymous contributions are contributions received that are not identified to a specific individual or entity. The law allows anonymous contributions to be received by a campaign finance committee in an amount of $25 or less per individual/entity/donor. (Anonymous contributions received through a fund-raiser cannot exceed $100 per individual/entity/donor.)

E-filers: Anonymous contributions received through a fund-raiser are reported in the Fund-Raising Events Held section, along with other relevant information about the activity. Other anonymous contributions (not through a fund-raiser) are reported in the Monetary and In-kind Contributions Received section under non-itemized contributions.

Paper filers: Anonymous contributions received through a fund-raiser are reported in Contributions and Loans Received form under non-itemized contributions and in the Fundraising Statement form, along with other relevant information about the activity. Other anonymous contributions (not through a fund-raiser) are reported in the Contributions and Loans Received form under non-itemized contributions.

4. Question: What is an in-kind campaign finance contribution? (Section 130.011 RSMo.)
Answer: In-kind campaign finance contributions are contributions made, in a form other than money, for the purpose of supporting or opposing a candidate or ballot measure. In-kind contributions are reported at their fair market value. Examples include, but aren't limited to: services, rent, or products provided without charge or at a reduced charge (below fair market value). See the referenced law for further definition (Contributions include gifts, loans, advances, donation of money or anything of value, etc.).

5. Question: What is a monetary campaign finance contribution? (Section 130.011 RSMo.)
Answer: Monetary campaign finance contributions are all moneys contributed for the purpose of supporting or opposing a candidate or ballot measure. See the referenced law for further definition (Contributions include loans, advances, a candidate's own money used in support of the person's candidacy (with specific exceptions noted in the law), etc.).

6. Question: Are there specific campaign finance reporting requirements for contributions over $5,000? (Section 130.044, RSMo.)

Answer: Yes, all individuals and campaign finance committees required to file campaign finance disclosure reports must electronically report any contribution by a single contributor, over $5,000, to the Missouri Ethics Commission. The contribution must be reported to the Commission within 48 hours of receiving the contribution and included in the committee's next full campaign finance disclosure report.

Review §130.011 RSMo., for a complete definition of contributions (Contributions include a payment, gift, loan, advance, deposit, or donation of money or anything of value, etc.). Failure to file the campaign finance report within the required time frame will result in the assessment of a $10 a day late fee.

7. Question: Can campaign finance contributions be given in any form? (Section 130.036, 130.041, 130.110 RSMo.)

Answer: Contributions (including from a committee or candidate) must be provided in cash, check, money order, or other traceable manner (e.g. electronic money transfer). Regardless of form, all contributions must be deposited into the campaign finance committee's official bank account (fund depository). See A Guide to Record-keeping for more information.

The following restrictions exist for cash contributions:

- Cash contributions, from a single contributor, cannot be over $100, per election cycle (candidates & candidate committees) or per election (all other committees)
- Cash contributions, between $25 - $100
  - Specific records must be maintained about the contributor
  - Campaign finance reports must reflect the contributor's name, address, & employer/occupation

10. Question: If a candidate uses signs both in a primary election and the subsequent general election, should the use of these signs in the general election be considered a campaign finance contribution? (Added 11/01/11)

Answer: No, the use of signs in the corresponding general election would not normally be considered a contribution and not considered in determining the monetary threshold for the requirement to form a campaign finance committee for the subsequent general election.

11. Question: As a candidate, I am using signs from my candidacy from several years ago; are the use of these signs from my prior candidacy considered a contribution to my current candidacy? (Added 11/01/11)

Answer: Yes, signs originally used by a candidate from an election, other than the primary election immediately preceding a general election, are considered an in-kind contribution. Section 130.011(11), RSMo., defines contribution as anything of value for the purpose of supporting or opposing any candidate. An in-kind contribution is defined as a contribution or expenditure in a form other than money. This in-kind contribution would be considered in the determination of whether a candidate has met the monetary thresholds established in law for forming a campaign finance committee.

Reporting Requirements – Expenditures

1. Question: How does the law define campaign finance expenditures? (Section 130.011 RSMo., Advisory Op 2007.11.CF.013)

Answer: An expenditure is a payment, advance, conveyance, deposit, donation, or contribution of money or anything of value for the purpose of supporting or opposing a candidate or ballot measure. Expenditures should be reported at the time they are either made or incurred. The Missouri Ethics Commission has issued advisory opinions related to the reporting of credit card expenditures also.

The law provides specific examples of what campaign finance expenditures include and does not include.

2. Question: What is an incurred expenditure and how is it reported?

Answer: An incurred expenditure is an expenditure made during one reporting period but paid in another (even if the candidate or committee has received the good or service). You must record and report an incurred expenditure at the time the obligation to pay is made (which may be an estimated amount). Include the date and amount, name and address of person/company, and the purpose.

For example:

- Reporting Period 1 (Jan 1 – Mar 31):
  - An order for signs was made on Feb 26 for an estimated cost of $500. This is reported as an incurred expenditure on the April Quarterly report. (Incurred expenditures show up as debt against the committee and do not reduce your money on hand.)
- Reporting Period 2 (Apr 1 – Jun 30):
  - On May 9, you received an invoice for the signs in the amount of $542.00. You wrote a check from the committee bank account to the sign company for the full amount billed. This is reported as a paid expenditure in the amount of $542.00 in the July Quarterly report. (This will decrease your money on hand.)
  - You must also remove the debt created by the incurred expenditure reported in the last reporting period. This is reported as a payment on previously reported incurred expenditures in the amount of $500 in the July Quarterly report. (This will decrease the committee's indebtedness.)

E-filers:

1. Report each incurred expenditure in the Expenditures Made section (in paid/incurred drop down, indicated 'incurred').
2. When you are ready to actually pay the incurred expenditure, you will write a check for the full amount of the purchase and report in the Expenditures Made section (in paid/incurred drop down, indicate "paid").
3. To remove the debt created by the incurred expenditure, report in the Payments on Previously Reported Incurred Expenditures section; include the amount previously reported (which may be the estimated amount), a brief description of the payment made and the payment method.

(Add 07/16/12)

3. Question: When and how are expenditures made by a credit card required to be reported?

(Advisory Opinion 2007.11.CF.013)

Answer: A listing of each actual expenditure to the payee (other than the credit card company), rather than the total due the credit card, should be reported. The expenditures should be reported when incurred.

E-filers:

1. Report each expenditure paid with a credit card in the 'Expenditures Made' section (mark as a paid with payment method of credit card). If itemizing, include each vendor & detail each expense.
2. Report payment to credit card company in 'Loans Made and Payments or Credits on Loans (including credit cards)' section.

4. Question: What is an Expenditure to Independent Contractor and how is it reported? (Section 130.041.4, RSMo.)

Answer: If funds are spent for professional services or for "consulting or consulting services, fees, or expenses", additional details must be reported about the expenditure, to include:

- ✓ Specific services provided (such as polling, research, direct mailing, broadcast media, computer programming or data entry, postage, rent or utilities)
- ✓ Dollar amount spent for each service; if the consulting service or fee provided more than one type of service, the dollar amount of the expenditure should be prorated between the specific service descriptions.

Example: Your campaign finance committee paid a company $1,000 for consulting services. The company sent an itemization of the services provided that included: direct mailings $250, phone solicitation $400 and fund-raising $350.

E-filers: The expenditure is initially recorded in the Expenditures Made section for the total amount paid and then more detail given in the Expenditure to Independent Contractor section, reflecting the total amount paid and then identifying each type of service provided with the dollar amount attributed to each service pro-rated.

Paper filers: The expenditure is initially recorded in the Expenditures & Contributions Made form (CD-3) for the total amount paid and then more detail given in the Independent Contractor supplemental form (CD8), reflecting the total amount paid and then identifying each type of service provided with the dollar amount attributed to each service pro-rated.

5. Question: What is an Expenditure Made to Support or Oppose a Candidate or Ballot Measure and how is it reported? (Section 130.041.1(7), RSMo.)

Answer: An expenditure that has been made to support or oppose a candidate or ballot measure when made without the candidate's or committee's knowledge (no money was given to the candidate or committee, the money was paid directly to the vendor).

NOTE: Does not include candidate committees making expenditures only on behalf of the candidate for which their committee was formed.

6. Question: Are there restrictions on using cash out of a campaign finance committee? (Section 130.031.2 RSMo.)

Answer: Yes, cash can only be used if from a petty cash fund. A single expenditure from a petty cash fund cannot exceed $50. All payments from petty cash in a calendar year may not exceed the lesser of $5,000 or 10% of all committee expenses in the calendar year. To replenish a petty cash fund, a check must be drawn from the official bank account, in an amount of no more than $50, and made payable to cash.

Withdrawing cash from an ATM is considered cash and also prohibited beyond the $50 per occurrence for petty cash.

By law, all payments and expenditures exceeding $50 must be made from the campaign finance committee's official fund depository (bank account).

Reporting Requirements-Reimbursements

1. Question: Can individuals, including candidates, be reimbursed for expenses from a campaign finance committee? (Section 130.021.4, 130.011 RSMo) (Added 11/01/11)

Answer:

- A. Campaign finance committees should preplan and are required to pay for expenses directly rather than to reimburse someone. Examples include paying for an individual's meal, expenses before a parade, purchasing campaign supplies, etc. By law, all expenses must be made through the campaign finance committee's official bank account (fund depository).
1. Committee expenses can be paid by writing a check directly from the committee bank account or by using a committee debit card or committee credit card.
  2. NOTE: when using a debit card, withdrawing money from an ATM is considered the use of cash and is prohibited except for through petty cash and cannot be over $50 per expenditure.
- B. Smaller items such as postage, parade expenses, candy, etc., can be paid for using a petty cash fund. By law, the use of petty cash cannot be over $50 per expenditure.
- C. A candidate can be reimbursed, for the payment of their own food, lodging, travel, or filing fee and that is related to their candidacy, from the candidate's campaign finance committee.
- D. If reimbursement still occurs:
1. All receipts must be retained in committee records (ie: if mileage is reimbursed, retain documentation of the actual miles traveled, date, and purpose);
  2. Expenditure is made from the official bank account to the individual.
  3. Purpose of expenditure must be specific to reimbursement (ie: Expenditure to Jane Dillon, $12.42; Purpose: Dollar General – Parade Candy.

2. Question: Can I pay campaign workers and be reimbursed? (Section 130.041.1(4)(d) RSMo)
(Added 11/01/11)

Answer: No, all payments to campaign workers must come directly from committee funds. Expenditures to campaign workers must be made directly from the campaign finance committee's official bank account (fund depository). Any cash payment to campaign workers is cause for investigation.

Committees must keep good records of all payments to campaign workers. Expenditures to campaign workers must be specifically itemized in campaign finance reports and include the name, address, date, amount and purpose of each payment along with the total (aggregate) amount paid to each worker. (Section 130.041.1(4)(d) RSMo.) Committees cannot report campaign workers in a lump sum payment.

3. Question: If a candidate, other campaign finance committee member, or campaign worker uses their own vehicle or personal cell phone, at times, for campaign-related items can they be reimbursed for these costs? (Section 130.021.4 RSMo.) (Added 11/01/11)

Answer: (See other questions related to reimbursements.) If a vehicle or cell phone is used solely for campaign-related purposes, these costs should be paid directly using a committee check, debit, or credit card and reimbursement should not occur. When a vehicle or cell phone is used for both personal and campaign-related purposes, the committee must make sure to maintain adequate records to support committee reimbursement for the actual expenses that are campaign related; additional care should be taken to ensure reimbursements do not occur for personal usage.

4. Question: Can a candidate use their own money to support their candidacy, including their own food, lodging, and travel or filing fee? (Section 130.011(11), RSMo.) Can a candidate be reimbursed from the campaign finance committee for their own food, lodging, travel, or filing fee? (Added 11/01/01)

Answer: Yes, a candidate can use their own money to support their candidacy; in addition, the candidate can receive reimbursement from their campaign finance candidate committee for these specific items. The campaign finance committee, when reimbursing the candidate for these specific expenses, must:

- a. Maintain all receipts in committee records (ie: if mileage is reimbursed, retain documentation of the actual miles traveled, date, and purpose)
- b. Reimburse the candidate from the committee's official bank account (fund depository)
- c. Report the expenditure's purpose specifically to the original expenditure (ie: Purpose: Reimburse Speaking Engagement Lodging – Hotel Name)

Reporting Penalties

1. Question: What penalties exist if a campaign finance report is filed after the due date? (Section 105.963 RSMo.)

In addition, the Missouri Ethics Commission could take an enforcement action related to the failure to file, including conducting an investigation. If a filer knowingly files a false, incomplete, or no campaign finance report at all, in addition to other penalties imposed by Chapter 130, RSMo., a person will be held liable to the state in civil penalties, in the amount equal to the contribution or expenditure when the person knowingly accepts or makes a contribution or expenditure in violation of Chapter 130, RSMo., or the person knowingly conceals a contribution or expenditure by filing a false, incomplete, or no report.

NOTE: No person may file for office (§130.071.2 RSMo.) until he/she or the treasurer of his/her existing candidate committee has filed all required campaign finance disclosure reports for all prior elections.
